The Farmers at Ottawa

(Uncle Jack in Toronto News)

To redress their wrong.

Eight hundred strong,

The stalwart farmers came.

Their demands they made

For a freer trade,

No bum political game.

Give us that, they cried,

For which YOU sighed

In the days of ninety-six,

That Free Trade plank,

No wrong since sank,

As deep as the River Styx.

We will have it now

Or we'll raise a row,

Our Western land to boast,

What can you say,

Ere we go away,

But "Chickens come home to roost."

YOU used to squeal

At the tariff steal.

And railed at all Protection.

What have YOU done,

Since the battle won,

In that ninety-six election?

Is it robbery still

For Financier Bill

To raise the tariff high,

And were you sincere

In the overturn year,

In your pre-election cry?

SIR WILFRED'S REPLY

He scratched his head

As the moments sped,

Assumed his manner bland,

Asked of the crops,

The wheat and hops,

And shook them by the hand;

Of the weather spoke,

And the newest joke,

And Cook's discovered Pole;

Of the pumpkin pie

In the days gone by,

That fed his hungry soul;

Of a lovely dance,

In the land of France,

In the year of Jubilee,

And the Ark's ground

On the Arahat mound

In the midst of the heaving sea;

Of the distance far

Of the Polar Star

And the fortune Sheldon made

But never a word

Said the sly old bird

In the promise of Free Trade,

For his campaign cash

Would go to snash

If the Trusts would angry

If they pull the string

Ere the end of Spring

We'll have tariffs higher yet.

DOCTORS FAILED

Suffered Several Years With Kidney Trouble, "Perna
Cured Me."

Mr. John N. Watkins, 3133 Rhinograd o'a h Ave, St. Louis Mo., writes: "Among all the greatly advertised medicines for kidney and bladder trouble, there is not one which equals Perna. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose until I took Perna."

"One bottle did me more good than all the others put together, as they only propped my system. Perna cured me. I used it for four months before a complete cure was accomplished, but am truly grateful to you. The least I can do in return is to acknowledge the merits of Perna, which I take pleasure in now doing."

SHE CURED HER HEART DISEASE

WHEN SHE CURED HER KIDNEY'S WITH DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mrs. Henry J. Jacques Found a speedy relief for all her troubles, and now enjoys the best of health. St. Rose du Lac, Man. (Special)—That Heart Disease is one of the results of disordered Kidneys, and is consequently easily cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, is the experience of Mrs. Henry J. Jacques. "My heart troubled me all the time," said Mrs. Jacques in an interview, "and I knew that terrible results might follow. The fact that my limbs would swell and my back would lead me to believe that I was suffering from Kidney Disease, so I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and before I had finished the third box the swelling was gone, my back was well and my heart no longer troubled me. I am now in the best of health, and I owe it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Heart Disease is one of the troubles that come from unhealthy Kidneys. They fail to strain the impurities out of the blood, and those impurities are bound to affect the heart, which is the engine that propels the blood through the body. To cure Heart Disease cure the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills; to prevent Heart Disease keep the Kidneys toned up and healthy by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mother—"Since our Willie has got into long trousers he is beginning to think he knows more than we do." Father—"Well, if he remembers the answers to all the questions he has asked, he knows at least as much as we do."

It Makes New Friends Every Day—Not a day goes by that Dr. Thomas' Elixer does not win a new friend. Orders for it come from the most unlikely places in the world, and the people who have travelled far to get it, find it so valuable for humanity. Its side effect makes it easy to get.

A Bible Name
The late Bishop Gallier was once asked to baptize a negro baby boy. "Baptize the child," he said, addressing Mrs. Jackson, the mother of the black mite. "Hallelu!" "That's a strange name, Mrs. Jackson," remarked the bishop hesitatingly. "Scripture name," rejoined the happy mother with a confident grin. "I never saw it in the Bible." "Why, Bishop, how kin yuh stan' up dar kiddin' a ole ignorant nighah lak I be? Yuh says dat name when yuh says de Lord's prayer—Hallelu be Thy name!"

A Mild Pill for Delicate Women—The most delicate woman can undergo a course of Parmer's Vegetable Pills without fear of unpleasant consequences. Their action, while wholly effective, is mild and agreeable. No violent pains or purgatives follow while use as thousands of women have used them can testify. They are therefore, strongly recommended to women, who are more prone to disorders of the digestive organs than men.

A small boy living with his aunt and grandma, noticed on one occasion that the regular black pepper shaker was partly filled with red pepper. This aroused no little concern on the part of the lad and turning to his aunt, who sat next to him at the table, he said: "You'd better not eat any of that red pepper, Aunt Harriet; grandma says that red pepper kills ants."

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows

She was a new waitress, and was very aristocratic, having lived with the Boodleys-Margolds for three years. She had only condescended to take service with the Joneses. Mr. Jones had been calling one afternoon and on her return she asked the maid "Has anybody been here this afternoon, Jane?" "No, ma'am," said Jane. "But here are the Tompkinses' cards. Have they called?" "Yes, ma'am," said Jane, with a superior air, "but you know, Mrs. Jones, the Tompkinses aren't anybody."

For over fifty years Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and other painful ailments have been cured by Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It's a good honest remedy and you will not regret having a bottle of it.

"Are you going to do anything on your daughter's case?" the young man with the cigarette and the languid air. "Well, it rather looks, if she marries you, that she is going to settle something on me," replied the parent.

Home Course In Health Culture

X—"Nerves" In the Home

By EUGENE L. FISK, M. D.
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"NERVES" are quite as pernicious an influence in the household as microbes. It is unfortunate that, unlike microbes, "nerves" cannot be boiled, fumigated or killed by antiseptics. It is true that fresh air, sunlight, exercise and simple diet are natural enemies of "nerves," as they are of microbes, but these remedies require time and the enforcement of a discipline which it is difficult to attain in a "nervous" household, and so it is regrettable that we cannot treat these pesky nerves as we do diphtheria germs and drive them from the home atmosphere with formaldehyde gas.

Prevalence of Nervous Diseases. There is reason to believe that under the strain of modern conditions nervous disease is claiming an increasing number of victims. This belief derives little support from census returns or vital statistics in the large cities, if such statistics are taken at their face value, without close analysis. The laid figures show a marked decline in the death rate from nervous disease during recent years. But on digging beneath the surface we find that much of the decline is due to the saving of infant lives from death by "convulsions," a cause of death reported under "nervous diseases." On going still further and ascertaining what changes have occurred in the mortality from degenerative diseases of the heart, arteries and kidneys, and "arguing" caused by nerve strain, honestly of the nervous system, we find that in the past thirty years of the life of a man from these diseases in London, 1,000 deaths have been saved.

And in the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater.

And in the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater.

And in the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater. In the case of women, the saving is still greater.

HAVING LEARNED THAT YOU POSSESS A NERVOUS SYSTEM OF AMAZING PERFECTION, "MILK AND HONEY" IT? The answer is emphatically, "No." Neglect and temporary failure of adjustment to conditions, which have changed with marvelous rapidity in the past half century, are responsible for this heavy loss of life. When the batteries of preventive medicine are fully trained upon this degenerative class of maladies, as they have been trained upon tuberculosis, typhoid and other germ diseases, a reduction in the death rate among the middle-aged and elderly will take place quite as remarkable as that already attained among the younger members of the community.

Causes of Nervous Disease. The conditions that give rise to nervous degeneration are so numerous that they could not be described with in the limits of this paper. They may be grouped, however, under three general headings—heredity, overstimulation and understimulation. Between the two extremes last mentioned lie the "golden mean" of a well poised, harmoniously adjusted nervous system.

Overstimulation is the result of the demands and opportunities arising out of our rapidly developing modern civilization, the strenuous life calling for a continuous and rapid adjustment of our minds to the kaleidoscopic changes which are going on around us. We sometimes forget that the incidents and experiences that formerly would have required a lifetime of 100 years may now be crowded into a tenth of that period. Understimulation affects those who are outside of the maelstrom, who have drifted into the backwaters, whose lives are so narrow that monotony induces a spiritual starvation, finally reflected in a physical exhaustion of the nerve centers.

First Steps in Prevention. Heretofore, when you possess a nervous system of amazing complexity, "smile and forget it." Only the strongest brain can indulge in critical self-analysis, especially of a nervous system out of repair, without becoming morbidly self-conscious and exaggerating nervous manifestations which are often of trifling importance. With the latent knowledge that you have such a system and a very definite knowledge of the things that will injure it, go on your way with habits formed accordingly and with confidence in your ability to defy disease and the odds are all in your favor. Nerve strain, nervousness and a host of other troubles will pass by, leaving you unscathed.

Heretofore the undoubtedly nervousness for many cases of nervous failure and the maladies that follow in its wake. If individuals whose family history shows a tendency to nervous or degenerative disease would refrain from marrying the face of this globe would be transformed as if by magic within a generation.

Value of Early Training. For best results we must begin early. Regularity, discipline and the up-building of self control are the watchwords in dealing with the nervous child, but with all children. Freedom from undue excitement and strain are likewise important. The nervous child must not be asked to compete either physically or mentally with more fortunately endowed children. The very principle of "competition" should be excluded from the home and school life and the principle of "training" substituted. Work and play for their own sake is a higher ideal than the mere desire to "beat the other fellow."

The habit of early retiring should be especially enforced with nervous children. Excitement in the evening should be avoided and the child encouraged to seek its rest in a normal, sleep-inducing "land of nod" of high intensity.

Parents must value their nervous system as a highly cultivated and a shattered nervous system.

The nervous system of the growing child is an exceedingly delicate and impressionable mechanism. If the demands upon it are too heavy the influence may reach far into adult life. This is especially true in affecting girls between the ages of twelve and seventeen. The school work should be carefully considered at this period, and if there is any sign of nervous instability or weakness freedom from the strain and confinement of school life is safer until the child's health and nervous control are fully restored.

Nervous children and, in fact, all possible local source of irritation, such as eye strain, adenoids, enlarged tonsils, defective teeth, etc. Correction of these troubles may change the entire future of the individual and greatly simplify the work of training.

Nerve Strain in Adult Life. "Overstimulation" has been mentioned as the second great cause of nervous maladies. This term would con- tain with intemperance in its broadest sense. Many prohibitionists are understood as criticizing the prohibitionist, but merely wish to show that "intemperance" covers a wide range of activities and indulgences which may be injurious to their effect. The society "climber," the business "climber," the "man about town," the speculator, the glutton, the debauchee, the "society" "drinker," the drunkard, are all types of intemperance or overstimulation.

The business drudge, the household drudge, the laboring drudge, the mentally deficient, are all types of the under-stimulated class, upon whom deadly monotonous exertion is laid. It seems that when a life is confined within too narrow limits a condition of inequality or strain arises in the nervous system. One set of muscles used until they are "worn to a frazzle," and then the trouble comes.

The Tired Woman. The tired woman is often the first phase of the nervous woman. The monotony of domestic routine, unrelieved by that daily contact with the outside world, which often serves as a nerve fallacy among women. It is my belief that every housewife needs a vacation occasionally.

There is reason to believe that le-test grief, worry or remorse relating to matters really long since settled is often responsible for neurotic and functional nerve troubles. It is desirable to get such things "out of the system." Talk the matter over with your physician or, if that monotonous ventilate the chamber of your mind in which it has been confined. The nursing of a "grouch" is a type of this trouble.

Effect of Prolonged Strain. If the finest quality of bow is kept continuously bent it will lose its resiliency. Likewise the most finely poised nervous system if subjected to continuous and unrelenting strain will acquire in time a warp or twist which requires the most skillful and patient treatment to remove. The business or professional man who presses steadily toward some mark, grudging even the time given to meals and refusing to take intervals of rest, often defeats his own ends. It has been contended that it is "worry" and not "work" that does the most damage to brain and nervous system are not injured by overwork.

Judge go defendant—You say you called the plaintiff a "cow?"

"Yes."

Judge to plaintiff—And you think $50 for reparation. Don't you think that a big sum?

Plaintiff (a driver)—But, judge, take into consideration the high price of cattle.

The Cause of the Trouble. A minister found at his door a needy looking knight of the cross, who asked for a job that he might earn his breakfast.

The minister could think of no work he needed, but he had a barrel of potatoes.

Coming down from his study later, he found the stranger with his chin resting between his hands and a look of deep perplexity on his face.

"Now, the trouble?" he inquired.

"Is the work too hard for you?"

"No; the work's not hard," / was the dispirited reply, "but it's an awful strain on the judgment!"—Success Magazine.

Still Running. A very small negro boy was a regular attendant at a boys' reading club and always called for the same book and always turned to the same place at which he looked eagerly and then laughed heartily.

The attendant's curiosity was aroused by a performance which time repeated, so he followed the little fellow 'neath and, looking over his shoulder, saw that he opened the book to a picture of a ball chasing a termagant negro across a field. He was just about to ask what the joke was, for the laugh had again come rippling to him, when the boy looked around, grinning.

"Goily," he cried, "he ain't kotched him yet!"—Housekeeper.

New One. The garrulous young man who thinks he knows it all and some more besides stood in front of the restaurant window.

"Fine jar of oysters you have there," he commented, when time came.

"Yes," responded the complacent proprietor, who was standing in the doorway.

"So plump and fresh looking. When it comes to telling a fresh oyster by its appearance I'm the caddy."

"Regular expert, eh?"

"You bet! They say oysters are the best running good this year, and yet those in that jar look the same as those you served in the window two years ago, when oysters were plentiful."

And the restaurant proprietor's features relaxed into a pleasant smile.

"They are the same," was the quiet response. "Those are rubber oysters for show only!"—Chicago News.

At one time he was the boss of the man who was over Jim Hill, the railway magnate, and Pai Buns, meat king of Calgary.

Shipping Potatoes to Cuba. A considerable trade is now being developed between New Brunswick and Cuba. Among other produce, it is expected that 500,000 lbs. of potatoes would be shipped there this winter.

BIG GAME IN B.C.

The Provincial Government is increasing the Reserves.

Chief Game Warden Bryan Williams, of British Columbia, who has just returned from a short tour through the interior, is authority for the statement that the past season has been an exceptionally good one for game of all varieties, and that instead of showing signs of exhaustion, the big game of British Columbia, are really on the increase. And this despite the fact that all the many distinguished hunters who visited the province during the past season returned to their homes delighted with the fine trophies secured. There were many of such hunters in the field and all had rare good luck. During Mr. Bryan Williams' own stay of eleven days in Lillooet, he counted no fewer than 160 head of mountain sheep and deer. The former are supposed to have belonged to a band of about 150 frequenting the locality, and which are multiplying rapidly. The latter were about two dozen splendid trophies, in the short space of eight days.

For the further protection of the game, the Government has just adopted orders-in-council establishing three reserves, or rather enlarging two existing game reserves and formally creating a third. The reserve the largest is in East Kootenay that for some time past has been operated as such has been enlarged in-council, prescribing annual closed seasons there in. To the Talakom (Lillooet) reserve the new reserve eight miles has been added, the reserve now taking in the entire valley of the north fork of the Kootenay river, and being added upon the particular benefit of the beaver, which are at present there in abundance, and of exceptional size. The new Fort George reserve lies between the north and the south fork of the Fraser, and covers an approximate length of from 60 to 70 miles and breadth of between 30 and 40. This game reserve is also a goodly caribou and many mountain goats.

The Kootenay (Rocky Mountain) reserve is now established as a regulation game preserve of approximately 200 square miles in extent. Game herein has been well protected during the past two seasons by preventing hunters from entering the park until now range the foothills in the north. They are larger and more numerous than the Vancouverian ones. By next season it is hoped that protection may be for a short time to the hunters and the hunters obtain a chance to secure some exceptional trophies.

It is quite likely according to the several requests that have been made for an earlier open season for the Kootenay hunters, that in the future that an influx of hunters would occur and promiscuous slaughter follow. The game preserve would then discriminate and pick off only the old bulls, good instead of harm would really result. The feed conditions and the climate in this district are ideal for the game, and there are no doubt many hunters who are "on among the deer herds as on Vancouver Island, the result being that the Kootenay game has greatly increased in numbers during the past few years.

The Ballot in Switzerland.

Swiss voters go to the polls on Sunday. In some districts the elections are held on the first of the month on Saturday evening. In a few of the cantons voting is obligatory, and returns of 70 to 90 per cent of the voting population are the result. The obligatory measure is, however, not rigorously enforced. Small fines are imposed unless an adequate excuse for nonattendance is forthcoming. These include illness in the family, mourning, absence from the city, a birth in the family and, in St. Gallen, necessary attendance at a christening by a parent or godparent. "Official business" is also usually accepted.

Mixed Motives.

"Few motives in this world can be pure. That is our great trouble," said a lecturer. "A clerk went bitterly on the beach one stormy night with a boiling sea to taste a cockle-shell of a fishing boat wherein sat his employer. As the clerk vaulted over the side the little boat, now buried under white foam, now shooting forward gallantly, now buried again, he clasped his hands and cried in great anguish, 'If that boat sinks I'll lose my job!'"

Lisbon, the Capital of Portugal.

Some time claims to have been founded by Diogenes in the course of his famous Peloponnesian tour. According to the London Chronicle, there is no doubt that Ulysses is only a fanciful version of Odisseus, the most ancient name of what was probably at first a Phoenician city. When the Romans absorbed and municipalized Odisseus it became Peloponnesus, but according to the Moslems it slipped back to Lusitania. Byron's line in "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage" gives the Portuguese name of the city as "Lisbon." The name of the name today.

THEY ARE ALL SCOTS

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF NOVA SCOTIA FOLLOWS THE RULE.

The McGregors of New Glasgow are an Old Line of Liberals—New Chief Executive of the Province Has Had a Great Deal to Do With Building of the Industries of His Native Section, and Is Very Popular.

Nova Scotia seems to be well named. Scotchmen predominate down there. The late lamented Lieutenant-Governor was a Scotman. His successor is a Scotman—McGregor by name. The Premier of the province is a Scotman. The Attorney-General and coming Premier—Maclean—is a Scotman. The other member of the Provincial Government, with Portillo, is a Scotman of the Clan Chisholm.

When Premier Murray goes into the Senate, as he probably will in a very short time, Hon. A. Maclean will take up the reins of Government. This will cause a great deal of the Government. We may expect to see a Scotman fill it.

And nobody by the sounding sea offers any objection to the preponderance of Scotch blood in the conduct of the affairs of Nova Scotia. The objection to the new Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. James D. McGregor, on that point, is a moot question. He is the well-known McGregor family of New Glasgow. This is a fairly good recommendation. The new Lieutenant-Governor has always been Liberal—the stalwart of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia has been an honest exemplification of that virtue. This is where the Liberal party takes kindly to the appointment. McGregor has lived an exemplary life, he is devoid of pride and without thorough gentleness. He is a good business man, a progressive thinker, and a fairly good speaker. Added to that he is a man of wealth, comparatively, and taking all in all, the appointment is received with general satisfaction.

Lieutenant-Governor McGregor has been closely identified with the big industries of Nova Scotia, particularly the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co.

When wooden ships sailed the seven seas, he was a shipbuilder, a shipowner, and it can be justly claimed that he was a New Glasgow industrialist.

It is quite likely that the position of Lieutenant-Governor was a very materially to his ability and his progressive spirit.

He was for some years a member of the House of Assembly, and on entering the Senate was elected in the seat by his son, Robert M. McGregor, the "boy member," as his friends delight to call him. Mrs. McGregor is an Ontario lady.

It is quite likely that the position of Lieutenant-Governor was a very materially to his ability and his progressive spirit.

Itching Scalp Falling Hair

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, itching and irritation of the scalp, and promote growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampooing with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, secured when other methods fail. Cuticura Soap and Ointment have been equally effective in the treatment of, itching, disfiguring scalp flatter and the alarming loss of hair with its own results. For example, a road by George E. Jefferson, 1515 Bond St., Philadelphia, tells of his remarkable case:

"My disease started with a little scurf on my head. Then it began to itch. The more I scratched, the worse it grew until it spread all over my head. So I went to Dr. Doughty. But my head grew as raw as a piece of beef and my hair continued to fall out in bunches. I changed doctors. My head at this time was so sore I could not touch it. I decided to go to the hospital. They began to treat it but it improved very slowly. For over three years I was a sufferer from this disease. I thought all hopes of a permanent cure were impossible. A friend, seeing the condition of my hair, which was a mass of running corruption, asked me if I had tried the Cuticura Remedies. I told him nothing would do me any good but being very anxious to be cured, I decided to try them. The first treatment brought immediate relief. My hair became alive and stopped falling out, the scalp itched and averted perfectly well and have a full head of hair. I can truthfully say that it was due to the use of the Cuticura Remedies."

IN BRITISH HOUSE.

Quite a Few Canadians Elected and But Three Defeated.

The number of Canadians who were candidates for election to the British House of Commons in the recent campaign was surprisingly large. And of them all it would seem that but three met with defeat. For the United Kingdom, Mr. J. E. Moison, and Captain Duncan Campbell, an old Trinity University man, Toronto, who contested a Scotch division for the Unionists. In fact, these three Canadians who met with defeat were Unionists. Dr. Mulson has been twice beaten in North East Bethnal Green, and this is Captain Campbell's second defeat. Sir Gilbert Parker, Unionist, was re-elected for Gravesend.

Mr. Donald McMaster, Unionist, was returned unopposed for the Chertsey division of Surrey.

Mr. W. M. Atkinson, Unionist, won Ashton-under-Lyne, for his party.

Mr. J. Allen Baker, Liberal, was re-elected in East Finsbury.

Mr. Joseph Martin, Liberal, was re-elected in East St. Pancras.

Mr. H. H. Greenwood, Liberal, won Southard for his party.

Dr. T. J. Macnamara, Liberal, was re-elected in North Camberwell.

Mr. Ian Macdonald, Unionist, was re-elected for Croydon. He was born at Cairn.

Charles E. Knight, Unionist, was re-elected for Kidderminster. He ranched for years in the Northwest.

In a number of public men who have recently visited Canada, Canadians will take an interest.

Mr. J. A. Collins, a recent visitor to this country, was re-elected as Liberal member for East Bradford.

Mr. J. A. Collins, a recent visitor to this country, was re-elected as Liberal member for East Bradford.

The Hon. E. J. Duggan, Unionist, who had just made a tour of the Dominion, was defeated at Shoreham.

Sir Clement Kitchin, another recent visitor, was elected Unionist member for Devonport.

Mr. A. D. Steel-Maitland, Unionist, who recently spent some time in Canada, was re-elected in East Birmingham.

Sir George Doughty, Unionist, who addressed the Canadian Club in Toronto a short time ago, won Grimsby for the Unionists.

Major Norton Griffiths, who is settling in Grimsby, a popular Canadian, was re-elected as Unionist member for Wednesbury.

Major E. F. Coates, M.P., a former resident in Canada, was elected Unionist member for Lewisham.

Mr. L. S. Kinney, Unionist, who has traveled in Canada and married a Canadian girl, was defeated in Bow and Bromley.

Marketing Eel Grass.

During the last three or four months several hundred tons of eel grass have been exported from New South Wales, to the United States, where it is sold at $10 to $12 per ton, while freight from Yarmouth to Boston is about $1 per ton.

Last year's crop is now about cleaned up, but those engaged in gathering and curing in this district have been quite busy. The supply on hand is really larger than at the same time for a like date for any previous year. Two or three gatherers of this grass, who appear to monopolize the export trade, buying up from the smaller gatherers what they cure, have erected mammoth sheds and are busy storing it away. They report that the market in the United States is well supplied at this time, and that, with the exception of a small lot left there will be very little exported during the coming year, and not a great deal until 1912.

Boston is a very large buyer for this grass, where it is used in building, pecking, cheap mattresses and mixing with other fibres. Efforts have been made, and are still being made, to utilize the grass for rope, twine, rug and other materials for which wool and other grasses are used. It is stout, long, and of fine fibre, and it is suggested that it might be used to advantage in paper-making. Hundreds and thousands of tons of it could be secured near Yarmouth every year, just for the gathering, along the seashore.

Daniel Wilson's House.

Dr. Daniel Wilson, afterwards principal of the University of Toronto, used in earlier days to live near Lauriston, in Scotland. One day Dr. John Biddie (who has just returned to his biography) set out to find him. "Having," he says, "no clear idea of the situation of the house, I extended to Margaret's Lane, which I conceived must lead in the right direction, and, meeting a gentleman about to take the steamer, asked whether he could direct me to Dr. Wilson's new house. He looked hard at me and answered: 'Do you know Daniel Wilson?'

"I do."

"Yes, intimately."

"Then follow this road till you see a house that looks as if it belongs to Daniel Wilson, and that will be it."

I thanked him, and, following his advice, had no difficulty in identifying the house. It had a window which contained some tracery of a pattern which I thought I had seen somewhere. I was considering the pattern when I was suddenly arrested by a Scotchman.

HELP FOR OLD BACKS THAT ACHE

GIN PILLS Cure Them

Age is no barrier to the wonderful, soothing, healing properties of GIN PILLS—the great Canadian Kidney Cure. We have on record many cases of men and women of 60, 70, 80 and over, testifying to the great relief they received from taking GIN PILLS.

Mr. Samuel Martin, of Strathroy, Ont., suffered for twenty years with misery in his back, chronic months ago, he tried GIN PILLS and after taking only three boxes, was entirely cured. Mr. Martin is now 68 years of age and enjoys the robust health of a vigorous man of sixty, thanks to GIN PILLS.

All elderly people are troubled, more or less, with Kidney and Bladder troubles, and the weakness in the back. GIN PILLS are a guaranteed cure for all these misfortunes. Money refunded if you fail to give complete satisfaction.

Eczema is Not Fatal

But its torture increases as it spreads over the body until it makes life a burden. It is cured by to many have eczema of one form or another and do not know it. The constant itching annoys them, but they scarcely realize how the disease is gradually spreading and becoming more aggravated.

Particularly during cold weather, when exposed to sudden changes and dampness, this ailment becomes more severe, and during the night, when the body rests, the suffering is intense and sleep almost impossible.

There is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. This healing, soothing preparation brings almost instant relief from the distressing itching.

In the course of a few days the healing process sets in and it is only a question of time and persistence of application of the ointment until cure is effected.

Dr. W. K. Clark, Petworth, Admington county, Ont., writes—"My mother had eczema in both legs for about twenty years. She doctor for a long time and tried everything for it, but got no relief until a friend advised her to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, which she got."

THE AVERAGE WOMAN NEEDS MORE BLOOD

Nerves Easily Irritated, She Worries Over Little Things

To the woman in the home—the woman closely confined to the house either through household duties or the care of children, or both, the Williams' Pink Pills are a positive blessing. The average woman has a nervous system. Her nerves are easily irritated, she worries over little things; has severe headaches and is often sick most of the time. With the woman who uses Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the condition is reversed. She is always well, in the care of her children, or her household duties, is a real pleasure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood supply and bring boundless health and strength. Her proof, Mrs. Fanny Shepherd, Girvin, Sask., says: "I am the mother of a large family and I am a nervous, weak and irritable person, going to my doctor about every six weeks, and he would give me a prescription 'to keep me going a little longer.' But it was like winding up a clock, I soon got run down again, and although life seemed hardly worth living, I did not wish to die because of leaving my little children. I continued like this for some years, but at last summoned up enough energy to strike out a new departure and get a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I barely hoped they would help me, but to my surprise, before I had been taking them long I began to feel like a different woman. I still continued taking the Pills for some time, and they made me as well and strong as any woman need wish to be. Once more I was able to do my household and business as ever since. I never need a doctor's box, and everything seems bright and cheerful. I shall always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone who in my opinion needs a tonic of any kind."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. each a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

School Teachers scarce declares Quebec's Premier

Anarchist Hunt Reaches Canada—Value of Canadian Parole System—Canada's Morgan Group

(From our own correspondent)

Montreal, Jan. 23—The death of school teachers, ever a live topic in the rural districts of the country, bids fair to become even more acute in the near future on account of the legislation foreshadowed by Sir Lomer Gouin at the opening of the Quebec Legislature concerning advancement on educational projects in the Province of Quebec. Sir Lomer says that special inducements are offered for the engagement of male teachers by the different school boards, and that, in this way, he hopes to be able to see education in the country parishes equal that of the cities. At present as soon as a school teacher procures a diploma he or she invariably moves westward.

Sir Lomer says now that he will have work for them to do near home, and that the expanding West must look elsewhere for its supply. The speech from the Throne also contained another announcement of considerable interest to the whole of Canada. It was that the Government had pledged itself to the furtherance of the good roads movement, and that large sums of money would be asked to build up and maintain public highways.

Excitement and interest in the Houndstich battle between anarchists and London police some time ago received new impetus here when it became known that orders had been issued from Scotland to all the police and detective departments to keep a sharp watch on all suspicious characters in their districts, and to be particularly careful to see to it that they were under direct surveillance for the few weeks prior to the Coronation. As a result of this the Dominion Police, under Colonel Percy Sherwood, have been most active and a large force has been sent to the boundary to board and inspect trains coming in from the ocean ports of the United States to Canada. This work was being done quietly and effectively, but this week Inspector Parkinson held up a party of four at Rouse's Point, coming in to Montreal from New York. There were two women and two men in the party. The inspector told them in his usual quiet manner, that they would not be able to enter Canada. One of the women becoming angry, drew a long hat pin and tried to stab the inspector.

The consequent small riot in the sleeping car aroused the curiosity of the passengers and the story leaked out. Later, the inspector announced that never before had the authorities turned back so many people, under one circumstance or another, as in the past two weeks.

If there is any faith to be put in figures, Canada's parole system of dealing with criminals has proved its value during the eleven years it has been in operation. Dominion Parole Officer Archibald, in the course of an inspection trip at St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, said that, of the three thousand and seventy-two prisoners who have been released from the penitentiaries on parole during that period, two thousand have justified their right to freedom by living the lives of self-respecting and industrious citizens, nine hundred and ninety nine are still reporting to the authorities, and only sixty-two have found their way back to the courts through the lures of their old habits and activities.

There is not very much use trying to play the role of stock market Bear these days. The tendency is all the other way and the Bulls have the call every time. Times are too prosperous just now to think or talk of declining values. The Bulls even say that Canada is getting to the stage where a set back across the border would not effect us to any marked extent.

Three years ago it will be remembered, there was next door to financial panic in the United States and although Canada was enjoying an unexcelled era of prosperity the adverse influences from abroad called a halt and there was a general readjustment of values in consequence of the interference to the wave of prosperity at home. As Canada grows bigger and stronger financially, the more she becomes independent of what financial turmoil Uncle Sam may see fit to permit within his borders.

The enormous inflow of capital from different parts of the globe, but particularly from the land of John Bull, shows no sign of cessation and with the development of our own great resources keeping on apace it looks as though the preachment of the Bull element ought not to be far wrong, even if it does appear a little over-enthusiastic to the moderate man in the "Street."

Several things have occurred within the past few months to give additional strength to Canadian credit abroad and nothing could have been finer in that respect than the recent demonstration of the wonderful earning capacity of the Canadian Pacific Railway as shown by the decision of the directors within the past few days to place the stock on a 10 per cent dividend basis.

The completion of the new power plant of the Sherwood Railway and Power Company has drawn Montreal capitalists attention away from their street railway in the city to a promising public utility enterprise in the Eastern Townships. The Sherbrooke company is only about a year old, it having taken over the old Sherbrooke Street Railway last year, but already it is commencing to show the fruits of labor and thought in the manner in which it is grappling with the power and transportation problems of the townships. Mr. Clarence McCuaig, on whose shoulders the principal burden of reorganization of the company has fallen, and whose energy has been responsible for getting the plant into the excellent running order it is in today, is now figuring on even larger plans with a view to giving quick transportation and power to the city of Sherbrooke and the surrounding district. With this end in view he has purchased three water powers on the Magog river and has commenced development. The result will be that the townships will eventually have their own hydro-electric power.

Another concern has been a great winner in the stock market within the past few days. This is Laurentide Paper of which Sir William Van Horne is president and E. B. Angus, C. R. Homer and James Ross are among the directors. The $1,600,000 of common stock which only a short time ago had a market value of less than $2,400,000 has appreciated in value to the extent of between $900,000 and as the stock is concentrated for the most part comparatively few hands the profit can be estimated at a glance. The company has been making great profits and some scheme is now under consideration for giving the shareholders a larger proportion than they are now receiving from the already handsome 8 per cent dividend rate. It will thus be seen that the C. P. R. millionaires are very much in the swim and are rapidly adding to their already immense fortunes.
